ABOUT GREEN CONSULTING

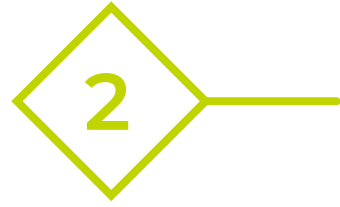

“One thing I wish to see done is the conservation of the forests and their increase, which is much needed, and I think it is very far away. I fear that those who come after us will have much to complain of because we leave them depleted; and please God that we do not see it in our time...”

(PHILIP II, in a letter to the president of the Council of Castile, 1582)

Green Consulting was created to face the fight against environmental degradation and guarantee its conservation. This is the heart of our company. Realities such as rural abandonment, climate change, the water cycle, desertification, or forest fires need entrepreneurs who join in the conservation strategy for a sustainable natural environment.

Green Consulting has a human team of professionals with solid experience and a multidisciplinary background (engineers, lawyers, GIS specialists, surveyors, draughtsman), who facilitate the integration of a service that aims to conserve the natural environment, in a stable equilibrium with the sustainability of our forests and business quality.

WHAT WE CAN DO FOR YOU

Since 2007, Green Consulting has developed projects in Andalusia, La Rioja, Extremadura, the Region of Murcia, and Castilla La Mancha. A large list of environmental actions and projects that, in some cases, start with forest management using modern inventory techniques, such as Drones and LIDAR technology, and others, with reforestation, restoration of burnt forest areas (through reforestation and silviculture) or comprehensive forest management.

These actions have been vital in defining the central concept of our professional activity: changes in land use and territorial modification of the layout of drovers' roads; precision topographical surveys; the demarcation of mountains, rural properties, drovers' roads, etc.

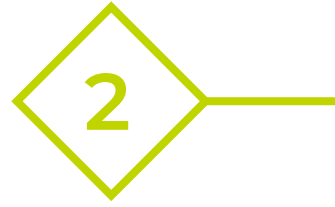

Other examples of actions and consultancies undertaken in recent years involve rural infrastructure, which includes the design and construction of warehouses, rural roads, enclosures, etc., as well as expert reports of a diverse nature, together with important appraisals of rural properties.

WHAT WE CAN DO FOR YOU

Population monitoring and control

Our professional team has years of experience and consists of veterinarians and agricultural engineers. We start our control based on rigorous and technical population monitoring and inventory processes, and we adjust our control methods (traps, nets, firearms, tranquillizer guns, cages...) to our clients' needs, studying sustainability, meat exploitation, recovery of species through specimens of other origins, etc., as well as continuous health and genetic monitoring.

Worth highlighting is our experience in fallow deer management in La Grajera Natural Park in Logroño, and in the public forests of Andalusia, in the provinces of Seville, Huelva, Cádiz...

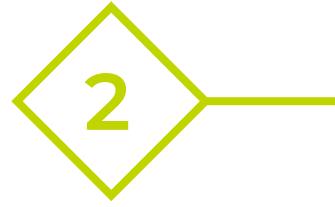

WHAT WE CAN DO FOR YOU

At Green Consulting, we are highly motivated to preserve the natural environment, which is why we have been working for years to improve fire prevention and safety.

For this, we develop and maintain Self-Protection Plans for Town Halls or Companies, as well as Fire Prevention Plans for rural properties.
